Greetings, earthlings.

We are the Moozians, and we need your help! We were in hyper sleep for 200 years and just woke up. Planet Mooz is a very small planet that is kind of like planet Earth. We breathe oxygen and have water too, but we have purple skin with green stripes and we all have 4 arms. Dr. Nether, a scientist from your planet, discovered us by accident a week ago, woke us up, and has been helping us ever since. We were so surprised to see that Dr. Nether only has two arms! Dr. Nether says we even have the same animals and landforms as you do!

While we were asleep, all of our buildings were ruined by our enemies, the Wols alien population. We are trying to rebuild, and Dr. Nether said that we should create something called a...diner? She said we should reach out to Earth for extra help, so we sent this letter in hopes that someone can assist us. We never had restaurants before, since we mainly hunted for our food and ate at home. But we are ready to try this, hoping that it will raise everyone's spirits while we rebuild. Can you help us decide what our diner should be called? We also need help with the menu. What kind of food should be on it and how much should we charge? Don't worry, we can access any food we need here. We are ready to try all different types of new food. Please hurry!

Signed,

Hungry Moozians
